DISAPPEARED IRREGULARITY MARKS STOCKS

New York, Feb. 27.—Pools resurred their operations at the brisk opening, of today's stock market, war specialties averaging gains of a point. Baldwin Locomotive, Central Leather, Crucible Steel, Beet Sugar, the motor group and tobaccos were the outstanding features. Moderate strength was shown by shippings and rails as represented by marines, Union Pacific and coalers. United States Steel opened at a fractional decline, immediately railied and as suddenly reacted again. Liberty bonds were irregular.

HOARDING BY HOUSEKEEPERS USING UP GRAIN STOCKS

Commercial and Financial Chronicle. Flour has been arriving more freely The local situation is being steadily re And a larger supply of substi tutes is now available. Apart from this the receipts of flour at New York last week for domestic purposes reached the nusual total for these times of 7,390 barrels and 106,921 sacks. And there is still a good deal of flour on the way. The situation is not quite so bad as it has been painted. For the railroad tangle is being gradually straightened out. A disturbing circumstance, it is true, is that contracts made ahead are not large, and stocks have disappeared in a way that has mystified a good many. Evidently there has been a good deal more hoarding by dealers or householders than has been generally suspected. It seems to be a fact beyond dispute that many householders have within the last few months bought by the barrel when they could, whereas they were accustomed to buying in packages of three pounds and a half, or some such quantity. Meanwhile the use of substitutes is increasing. Some of them are new. A pretty good trade is being done in cornstarch and tapioca flour. Oatmeal is being utilized in the making of bread. Moderate quantities of sago flour, arrow root flour and ba-nana flour are being used. Barley flour has been pretty well exhausted, and the same is true of corn goods, both of which are even higher than wheat flour, strange as that may seem. But a freer movement of corn and other grain as the railroad situation is relieved will no doubt correct this abnormal state of things. On the Pacific coast there is a good demand; Australian arrivals there

Wheat has been firm, owing to continued scarcity. A new bill has been introduced in congress fixing a price of $2.50 for the new crop. Even this would be 50 cents higher than the present guaranteed price. It is asserted that with the rate of $2 the yield of wheat this year may be small. It is argued that the price of $2 for wheat is too low com It is argued that pared with prices ruling for other grain. In the main the wheat crop at the west eems to be looking well. #### BLAME CONDUCTOR FOR L. & N. WRECK

Also Flagman of Telescoped Train Responsible, Is Decision-Both Killed.

Washington, Feb. 27.-Responsibility washington, Feb. 27.—Responsibility for a rear-end collision on the Louis-ville & Nashville railroad at Shepherdsville, Ky., Dec. 20, in which forty-six were killed and fifty-two injured, was assigned today by the bureau of gafety of the interstate commerce commission to the negligence of the conductor and flagman of the telescoped train in failing to the property. train in failing to take proper pre-ventative precautions. Both men were killed in the crash.

A contributory cause, said the report of the investigation, was the failure of the engineer of the express that crashed into the local to observe a train order signal. A large measure of culpability, it also was said, rests on the operating officials of the railroad for neglecting to provide proper means for spacing trains in that territory, particularly at a time when con-

'Some" as An Adjective.

(C. Jefferson Weber in North Ameri-can Review.) The American habit of coining new meanings for words already known is closely allied to that of coining words. Take, for example, the current slang use of that much-used word "some." What a wealth of meaning and in-sinuation the American has invented

"Some" as an adverb may be heard in many places. For instance, in the Teign valley district of Devon, the reign variety district of Devon, the natives may say, "It did rain zum yes-terday." But the American would use the word as an adjective and say, "That was some rain yesterday." This That was some rain yesterday. This use is hard to define. In the middle of the last century "some," meaning considerable, or notable, was called "a modern slang word." Today "some" is almost limitless in its capacity for application. It implies approval, en-thusiasm, sarcasm, wonder, admiration, disgust—or amusement.

The seeds may have been sown in Cornwall, in Devon or in Lancashire, but I seriously doubt if a native of any of these countries would ever say enthusiastically, "We had some fun last right," or sarcastically, "This is some book;" Another word to which Americans have given a new is some book!" Another word to which Americans have given a new meaning is the verb "raise." In England men raise crops; in America they also raise children.

New York, Feb. 27.—There was a renewal of yesterday's buying movement at the opening of the cotton market, today, with first prices-steady at an advance of 6 to 12 points. Higher Liverpool cables, the absence of March notices, and reports that large orders for cotton duck were pending in the goods trade for navy purposes, were factors on the advance. At 31.24c for May and 30.84c for July, however, the market met a good deal of realizing, while there was scattered southern and local selling which appeared to be inspired by better prospects for rain in the southwest. Prices soon reacted, with the more active deliveries selling 9 to 10 points net lower before the end of the first hour.

The demand from Liverpool was a check on the market during the first hour, but shortly after the close abroad May broke to 30.88c and July to 30.99c, or 25 to 32 points net lower and about 36 to 45 points below the opening figures. The volume of realizing then tapered off and the market became less active, with prices showing railies of several points around midday on covering and trade buying accompanied by reports of a good spot demand.

The early afternoon railies met comparatively little cotton after the heavy spot demand.

The early afternoon railles met comparatively little cotton after the heavy selling of the morning, and by 2 o'clock prices had recovered to 31.10c for May and 30.62c for July on reports of a good demand for spots. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 25 points higher and traders were good buyers around the local ring on the raily.
